

S.5.1 Gender Equality: Relationships

Equality means different things to different people, in the different relationships we have it can feel like a complicated thing to get right. Consider these relationships and give some examples of what men or women might experience if their relationship was equal.

1. Equality between men and women in society, in general. What would this mean?
2. Equality between men and women in the family/at home. What would this mean?
3. Equality between men and women in friendships. What would this mean?
4. Equality between men and women if they are in a relationship. What would this mean?

S.5.1 Gender Equality: Relationships

Equality means different things to different people, in the different relationships we have it can feel like a complicated thing to get right. Consider these relationships and give some examples of what men or women might experience if their relationship was equal.

1. Equality between men and women in society, in general. What would this mean?
2. Equality between men and women in the family/at home. What would this mean?
3. Equality between men and women in friendships. What would this mean?
4. Equality between men and women if they are in a relationship. What would this mean?

S.5.1 Gender Equality: Relationships

Equality means different things to different people, in the different relationships we have it can feel like a complicated thing to get right. Consider these relationships and give some examples of what men or women might experience if their relationship was equal.

1. Equality between men and women in society, in general. What would this mean?
2. Equality between men and women in the family/at home. What would this mean?
3. Equality between men and women in friendships. What would this mean?
4. Equality between men and women if they are in a relationship. What would this mean?