We can also identify these additional CfE Experiences and Outcomes as being relevant to these activities; they sit within Mental, Emotional, Social and Physical Wellbeing within Health and Wellbeing. As the responsibility of all they do not have associated Benchmarks.

- As I explore the rights to which I and others are entitled, I am able to exercise these rights appropriately and accept the responsibilities that go with them. I show respect for the rights of others. HWB 2-09a
- I recognise that each individual has a unique blend of abilities and needs. I contribute to making my school community one which values individuals equally and is a welcoming place for all. HWB 2-10a

Learning Intentions
- Children learn about themselves, what makes them unique and the idea of diversity.
- Children consider stereotypes and gender-biased expectations.

Success Criteria
- I understand that how I look, how I behave, or my aspirations should not be limited by stereotypes, my sex or expectations of what boys and girls should do.
- I can give examples of, and can challenge, stereotypes.
- I show respect for others.
- I understand and accept diversity amongst my peers.

Activity
This is a relatively short input that will clarify for children what is meant by transgender.

1. Remind the children that the class/group is learning about being a girl and boy and about being fair to everyone, and that they can be any kind of girl or boy they want to be. Explain then that there are some people who grow up feeling that the sex they have been given when they are born just doesn’t fit how they feel as they grow up. Ask if the children have heard the word transgender and introduce the term/definition on the slides, and talk through to ensure understanding. (NOTE The images are of adults who identify as transgender. The symbol shown represents the transgender community, you might share this and the symbols for male and female too by way of explanation?)

   If a person describes themselves as transgender (sometimes people just say trans) they feel that the sex that they were given at birth doesn't match how they feel inside or how they want to express themselves to others.

   So, a transgender woman lives as a woman today, but she was thought to be a boy when she was born. A transgender man lives as a man today, but was he was thought to be girl when he was born.

2. Ask the children if they remember learning about the words prejudice, discrimination and sexism – what do they remember they mean? Introduce the word transphobia, this is a word that explains when someone is hurt or put down because they are transgender.

   Transphobia is a kind of prejudice and discrimination. It is when someone who is transgender is put down or hurt or discriminated against just because they are transgender.

3. Key points to get over are:
   - Acknowledge that for people who are transgender things can be difficult when other people are cruel or rude to them.
   - Remember too that everyone of us is born unique and special, this is what makes us all so interesting.
